AN INFANT IN CUSTODY.

Why Pretty Little Nellie Rudd is a Prisoner.

Nellie Rudd is 3 years old, and a pretty, anocent little child, yet she is an immate of the Will county jail, at Jeliet, Ills., and must remain in custody of the sheriff for some time to come. A trial is pending for her possession between her mother, Kate Nelson, and her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudd. Nellie was born in the poor house. Three months after that event Miss Nelson signed the baby over to Mr. Van Arsdale, superintendent of a Chicago foundlings' home. He in turn transferred his charge to the Rudds, who have raised it thus far and have grown much attached to the winsome little thing. Nellie's father recently died and left $1,500 to the mother first move was to abduct Nellie. The foster parents with officers followed the woman to Chicago, thence to Mokena and Uties and back to the poor house, where the child was recovered. The claimants then sought the courts. Nellie lay asleep in Mrs. Rudd's arms when the court ordered her into the possession of the sheriff pending the trial. When a deputy sheriff took the child in his arms to carry it to the jail residence both women burst into tears. The foster parents falled to get an order of court when they adopted the child, relying on the papers signed by both the real mother and Superintendent Van Arsdale,

Babies "Hoodooed" by Reporters. "Hoodoo" is a word that is generally thought to have its origin in the African term "voudoo." Abeaux rate, no matter what its genesis, the expression implies the possession of malefic powers. A hoodoo is like one endowed with the evil eye—what-ever attracts his attention meets disaster. The latest phase of the hoodoo business has to do with newspaper reporters, more particularly those pencil experts hving in Cincinnati. The superintendent of the zoological garden at that place, Mr. Stephen by name, recently asserted in unambiguous language that the reporters killed babies. He recovered his listeners from their shock of surprise and horror by the supplemental statement that the bebies were not human, and that the journalistic method was one of indirection. As soon as any of our young animals pet writ-ten up they dis. Look at our giraffe. And when the grizzly bears were born we said not a word about them in public. One we left with his mother and the other I took and began to raise on a bottle.

One day one of the newspaper men ca and sow the grindy body getting its bottle. He wrote it up at length and the little thing couldn't stand it. It died at once. And so when we have more babies out here we will keep them under cover until they got big enough to stand the hoo-
